A story of the wind

There is an old fable in which the mighty oak tree which stood for over one hundred years finally was blown over by a storm. The tree fell into a river that floated it downstream until it came to rest among the reeds growing along the riverbank. The fallen giant asked the reeds in amazement, “How is it that you were able to weather the storm that was too powerful for me, an oak tree, to withstand?”

The reeds replied, “All these years you stubbornly resisted the winds that swept your way. You took such pride in your strength that you refused to yield, even a little bit. We, on the other hand, have not resisted the winds, but have always bent with them. We recognized the superior power of the wind and so, the harder the wind blew the more we humbled ourselves before it.”

Always remember to bend with the wind, and you won’t be blown over by the storm!

Pasting Guide

Step 1:

- Take the time to orientate
- Unpackage and unroll the wallpaper on a flat clean surface
- Pay attention to each panel number on top of every panel, this must follow in sequence (panel 1,2,3,4 ect..)

Step 2:

- Your wall must be completely flat, clean and dry. Levels rough surfaces, rough, holes and uneven spots.
- Your wall should be a uniform color. If not, you may notice differences in color on your wall once installed. If your wall has multiple colors, we recommend that you paint again.
- Make a vertical line with a plumb line on the left edge of the area you want to cover with the mural. If you have a plumb, one can make your own by tying a heavy object on the end of a rope. This line is very important because it is the guide to start placing your mural.

Step 3:

- Applying glue on the wall evenly using a brush or a paint roller. Start distributing from the line you marked as a guide to the plummet. Don't paste the entire wall, do it only in the area that will cover the first panel on the left, leaving a few inches outside the right.
- Apply the first panel of the mural on the wall starting at the top left. Check that is aligned with the guide.
- Press against the paper with a dry roller or sponge to remove any air bubbles.
- Place the following panels in the same way in numerical order. The panels must not be mounted on each other but are set on edge.

Step 4:

- Clean the excess glue with a damp sponge.
- With the help of a ruler and a cutter, adjust the sides and the top and bottom of the wall if necessary.
- Let the wall dry for 24 hours; you will get a perfect final result
